America's First Woman Lawyer Author and Lecturer, Found With Brother, Also Sick.

EVICTION IS THREATENED

Prohibition Opponent, 73 Years Old, Lies in Bed Planning Work in Washington.

Miss Phoebe Couzins, the first woman to become a lawyer in America, the first woman to be a United States Marshal, the first woman to be graduated from Washington University (where she received the degree of bachelor of law in 1871), author and lecturer on political and prohibition topics, is in want, hungry, ill and old, living out the dreary end of a once brilliant life in a squalid room on the second floor of 2722 Pine street.

A Post-Dispatch reporter, who had been told of her plight, went to the house to find her. The house seemed to be unoccupied. A notice on the front door told where the landlady lived and where the keys could be obtained. A negress who lives in the neighborh the reporter and told him Miss Couzins was still in the house for the presidency.

Though her cheeks here sunken from cold and lack of food, she was genial and smiling. Her age? She is 73 years old, and recent privations have so sapped strength that her trembling hand id scarcely hold a pencil when she tried to write on a slip of paper a name she wished to remember. "I'm feeling fine today," she said, with a characteristic smile. "We've just had a lovely breakfast. A friend sent it to us. viet in Sing Sing as given out yeserday by William Sulser, deposed Gov ernor and present candidate for the State Assembly on the Progressive ticket, was again today the axis about which revolved the heated controversy of personality and invective incident to New York's mayoralty campaign.

From his cell in Sing Sing, ex-State Senator Stephen J. Stilwell repudiated the correctness of his written application for pardon as made public by Sulser. He was backed up by James M. Clancy, Warden of the prison. Standing by Stilwell, but denying that he was attempting to shield Tammany, Clancy promptly wrote out his resignation and sent it to the State Department of Prisons.

ment of Prisons.

Hennessy Saw Stilwell.

The Stilwell letter as given out, was in brief an application for a pardon in return for an exposure of "boss rule" in New York City. Stilwell's alleged overtures along this line were further detailed by John Hennessy, campaigner egainst Tammany. He told of a conference with Stilwell in prison, on Stilwell's boast that he could "put Murphy in jail and could intimidate certain legislators and swing them in line for Sulser at the impeachment proceedings."

However, according to Hennessy, Stilwell demanded his pardon first and no terms could be agreed upon. The fact that Hennessy even outlined what took place between them was credited today as having brought about Warden Clandy's resignation. John B. Riley, State

DIVORCE RECOMMENDED IN PLATONIC MARRIAGE

Wife Presents Exceptions, Denies Cruelty, Says She Has Been Loving to Husband.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.-One the strangest divorce cases that has ever occupied the attention of the local courts was argued before the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas when Mrs Irene D. Cunningham presented exceptions to the recommendations of a master that her husband, Clement R. H. Cunningham, be awarded a decree of absolute separation on the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment. Cuningham is president of a steel company and is reputed to be wealthy. About 18 years ago, when he was about to marry, the couple took a solemn vow to lead lives of purity. This compact, it is stated, was never broken. The attorney for Mrs. Cunningham contended that the testimony before the master proved that Mrs. Cunningham had always been a good, loving wife and estimable woman and that she had never been guilty of any overt or threatening act of violence or abused her hus-band in any way which warranted the granting of a divorce for her husband on the ground specified. The Court te-

MILITANT WOMEN SMASH NON-STRIKER'S DISHES

Three Strike Sympathizers Enter Garment Worker's Home.

Where Wife Is Alone. Militant women sympathizers with the striking garment workers raided the home of Nathan Schurman, 1724 Biddle street, Tuesday afternoon and broke dishes and kitchen utensils. Schurman is working in a striker's place at a Washington avenue garment factory. While Mrs. Schnurman was alone her home the three women entered. Your husband will take the bread out of other people's mouths," said one of he women. Warning Mrs. Schnurman that she would be hurt if she interfered with hem they went through the kitchen and dining room on a tour of destruction. They broke three stove lids and a gas grate and smashed three vases, eight plates, six tumblers and two clocks. Schnurman gave the police the names of three women whom he suspects.

REMARK ANNOYS GIRL: ESCORT, RESENTFUL, SHOT

Charles S. Thompson, proprietor of a saloon and restaurant at 1048 North Vandeventer avenue, annoyed Agness Corcoran of 3684 Finney avenue, who was eating in the restaurant Tuesday night, the young woman says. He younger sister. Louise Corcoran, was with her. Their escort, James Forrester of 5083 Delmar boulevard, a motorman, resented a remark by Thompson.

The two men fought on the sidewalk, and Thompson drew his revolver and shot Forrester, causing a flesh wound near the right hip. Thompson later said he tried to fire in the air to summon a policeman. He was sent to the city hos-pital alcholic ward, but later was reased on bond.

Potatoes, Dumplings and Bread Thrown About in School Dining Room.

Sweet potatoes, dumplings and chunks of bread flew across the broad nave of Thomas Hall, the dining room of Washngton University, and smote the pates of undergraduates and waiters, in a "food fight" held by students at opposite tables Tuesday evening.

The food fight is not an annual event, but the students say it will be a fre-quent event if the menu continues as it as been. They say none of the food which they used as missiles, except the bread, was suitable for eating, and that he sweet potatoes were hardly bigger han crabapples

Jack Batschy of Quincy, Ill., started the fight by picking up a sweet potato and hurling it at Gene Smith of Little Rock, Ark, who sat across the room. Smith dodged and returned the fire with a dumpling, which struck Batschy's necktie and spattered gravy over the man sitting next to him.

In a moment the conflict was gen eral and Morris Boorstein, Superintendent of buildings and general keeper of the peace, who strode in to quel he disturbance, was soon in the food fight, hurling potatoes and biscuits as vigorously as any sophomore. Martin Harris, Superintendent of the Dining oom, tried to declare a truce, but was aid low with a loaf of bread. The fight ceased only when there was no

"If I Were Mayor"

Five Former Chief Executives of St. Louis Tell What They Would Do if They Were in Office Now.

COUR former Mayors of the city of St. Louis were honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Adolphus Busch. They were Rolla Wells, David R. Francis, C. P. Walbridge and Frederick H. Kreismann. They met in the yard in front of the Busch residence and passed into the house together to tender their condolences to members of the family. There they met Edward A. Noonan, another former Mayor, and the incident called attention to the fact that there are living five former Mayors of St. Louis. Each of the former Mayors was asked Tuesday what he would do if were Mayor today. Here are their answers:

citizens in all the departments of the EDWARD A. NOONAN. were Mayor again, I would try city on every occasion, and at all times, to complete the free bridge. I do without straining to accomplish some than the one we had in building the city the multitude of smaller things which hall. were Mayor again I would ben all my energies to convince the people of St. Louis of the folly of ending $6,000,000 in the construction of pproaches for steam railway purpose the so-called free bridge.

I would devote myself to convincing the people and the legislative body of the desirability of approaches to the so-called free bridge for the use of trolley ars, vehicles and pedestrians.

My opinion today on this subjectwhich is the big subject for St. Louisis the same as it was when I was Mayor and the matter was first brought to my attention for official action. It always has been desirable for the City of St. Louis to provide a free highway cars, vehicles and pedestrians, but it sirable for the City of St. Louis to build highway across the river for the use of steam railways. This is particularly idenced by the fact that there is no ovision or reasonable means of proriding terminals for steam railways on other end of the bridge when it is completed-if the approaches ever are con

And a free highway for steam railway purposes will not make such a re-duction in tariffs as will justify the burden of expense on the people of the City of St. Louis for the principal, interest and maintenance cost of the so called free bridge.

By FREDERICK H. KREISMANN. F I were Mayor again I would try to convert the people of St. Louis to a new viewpoint. I would try to get them out of that unhappy frame of mind in which they are always considring adverse conditions and complain ng of ills that they imagine they have, forgetting the manifold advantages which they possess over the people of other cities. Knowing as I do the many natural advantages and blessings which we cu-joy in St. Louis, I would try to turn the eyes of the people to these advan-

Pains All Over?

Mrs. S. J. Kintner writes from Mark Center, O.: "Before taking CARDUI I could not be on my feet half an hour at a time. I suffered from a pain in my side and pains all over. I have taken nearly 6 bottles of the medicine, and now I sleep well, and can walk all day. The pain in my side is all gone, and I am in better health than for the past 5 years. The medicine is excellent for all stomach disorders. I am giving CARDUI to my roung daughters with good results. I recommend CARDUI to my friends, for I would like all suffering sisters to know what "will do for them." It is almost sure to help you, too."

BETTER MILK CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN IN HOUSTON

Dairymen Are Being Organized and Told How to Conduct Places Sanitarily.

HOUSTON, Tex., Qct. 29.—Houston h started a "better milk" campaign. Back of the movement is the idea to prevent as far as possible deaths of infants and Animal Industry is here organizing dairymen and mapping out co-operation. Instead of going to the public. Cook is going to the dalrymen. He is not denouncing them, but is instructing them. He has given illustrated lectures which have been attended by many dairymen. He also is inspecting dairies and making suggestions for care of barns and animals on sanitary lines.

$500 Bribe Induced Estate Fight Revelation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.-"I do not care what Dr. Fraser testified," Je-clared Mrs. Hattie Blain just after making a deposition in the Slingsby baby substitution case before Douglas Young, British Vice-Consul here, who is acting as a commissioner of the High Court of Chancery, London, England. "I am telling the truth and shall continue to tell it. I accompanied Mrs. Slingsby to Dr. Fraser's office and ne-gotiated with her for a living male infant. That's the story I shall stick to, no matter what anybody says." Lieut. Charles Henry Reynard Slings-by, late of the British Navy, and his merican wife, Dorothy Cutler Morgan Slingsby, are endeavoring to prove that Charles Eugene Edward Slingsby was born in San Francisco and is their legitimate son. The remainder of the family seeks to show that little Charles Eugene is a changeling.

Dr. W. W. Fraser, who, Mrs. Blain

said, performed the substitution, is from Weaverville, Cal. He was arrested on charge of having filed a false birth certificate and admitted his guilt, but ontended his act constituted no crime This view was upheld by the Court and he went free.

As neither Lieut. Slingsby nor his wife is an American subject, the State of California had no further interest in the case until it appeared that the depo sitions before Vice-Consul Young wer so contradictory that somebody mus e committing perjury.
Thereupon District Attorney Fickert

convened the grand jury for a special investigation and last night Dr. Frase testified that before admitting he had calsified the birth certificate he had accepted $500 from the faction of the Silngsby family hostile to the child whose parentage is disputed.

ablished he will become his father's heir to an estate yielding an income of $40,000 to $50,000 a year. If not, the ncome will revert at the father's death o a junior branch.

Mrs. C. M. Fickert, wife of the prose cutor, has been a loyal friend of Mrs Slingsby. It is largely due to her that nuch of the sympathy for Mrs. Slingsby as been kept alive.

COUNCILMEN NEAR

Fletcher and Rower Continue Secret Conference Argument in Open.

Councilmen Fletcher and Rower almost came to blows in a conference Tuesday came to blows in a contenence ruesua; afternoon while Fletcher was urging that City Counselor W. E. Baird be asked whether Councilman William Protzmann had forfeited his office by negotiating a surety bond of $5000 for the Regal Shoe Co., in 1912. The bond was to secure the city against damage from excavating beneath a sidewalk under an ordinance that Protzman had voted for

The Council in open meeting later adopted the Fletcher resolution asking Baird's opinion, by a vote of 6 to 3, Councilmen Rower, Paule and Randall voting against the inquiry. By an oversight the members neglected to reconsider the vote and the request will not be forwarded to Baird until the next

Former Opinion Is Adverse. Former City Counselor Walther gave an opinion in 1911, while Protzmann was a member of the Council, to the effect that a Councilman would forfeit his office by becoming directly or indirect ly interested in a bond transaction to which the city was a party. The opinion was given in the case of Delegate Dan W. Oviatt, who had writ ten many bonds for employes in the Building Department. Oviatt was held by Walther to be immune from the prohibition in the charter, because, no being a Councilman, he would not be called upon to pass on the sufficient of the bonds he wrote.

Rower and Fletcher continued the de oate in the open meeting which began in a secret conference. Rower said there vere no official charges against Proiznann, and that he did not favor looking for trouble merely because a newspaper had published the fact that Protzman wrote the bond of the Regal Shoe Co and received $3 compensation

Protzmann Keeps Silent.

Protzmann was present, but remained ilent throughout the debate. He enered the room where the secret conerence was being conducted, and adnitted that he wrote the bond in question, informing the members that he nad consulted his attorney, Benjamin Schnurmacher, and had been advised hat the act did not automatically for eit his office.

Protzmann, who is a wealthy realty lealer, owning a home at 2228 St. Louis evenue and a summer home at 10,937 Riverview drive, pleaded with his coleagues in the secret conference to stop the investigation on account of his wife and five children.

Those voting to ask an opinion of the City Counselor were: Councilmer Fletcher, Haller, Arendes, Herrmann Koenig and Ebeling. Councilmen Hines, Meehan and Lazarus were absent, and Protzmann asked to be excused from voting on the motion.

A resort hotel is wanted.

There is an excellent location for a resort hotel on the main line of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, in the Ozark Mountains, 120 miles from Saint Louis. The proposed site is on a bluff two hundred and fifty feet high, at the base of which flows the Gasconade River, furnishing excellent fishing, boating and bathing. Twelve passenger trains provide service to and from St. Louis. During the Summer season of 1913, thousands of St. Louisans spent their vacations in the Ozarks, and a vastly greater number would have done so, had adequate hotel accommodations been obtainable. The Frisco Lines will furnish substantial assistance to any responsible party who will undertake to build and operate a hotel at this point, and will co-operate, by advertising, in making the enterprise a success after the hotel is finished.

No application will be considered unless the party interested can command $25,000 in cash.

Well, your stomach must digest the food in order to give energy and vitality, that sparkle to the eye, that buoyancy of health. Those who suffer from indigestion, cour, out-of-order stomach, have little energy or "get-up."

It's no wonder. The nerves—the whole system—get little nourishment from the food you eat. It doesn't digest, but just rots in the stomach, causing bloating from poisoning gases, sallow or bilious complexion, pimples, bad breath, headaches, etc.

Begin using Samuel's "3-P" capsules and end your indigestion—build up your nerves. Thousands are doing it every day. They tell they we never felt so good, looked so well, nor been so full of "youth and gings" as since using "3-P" capsules regularly.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utimost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Dist is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing billiousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great enanges are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later fourthe.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup and old and has found none better, for young children.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. Will Not Be a Joy Ride McGraw Seeks Discipline Players Who Are to Circle the Globe Are Told to Remember That Eyes of the World Are on Them— Matty Picks All-American Team.

By Christy Mathewson.

The Giants' Star Pitcher.

HE world's trip of the Giants and White Sox for the first week was more like a Polar expedition than a baseball tour. In two towns in which we played there was snow that made the sliding to bases easier but the rest of the work harder. The trouble with these parks seems to be that they haven't steam-heated stands. Still, they say there is sunshine and warmth in California, and we are optimists.

Aside from weather conditions, it shortstop; Zimmerman, third base, and has been a very fine trip so far, with Cobb, Speaker and Joe Jackson everybody entertaining us, including "Germany" Schaefer, one of our party. I could never play baseball on the same team with that fellow because I would laugh myself to death. He is one of the best comedians that I have schaefer put one over on Larry Doyle the other day. "Germany had reached second with two out. The call was 3-2 on the batter. The um-pire called the next one a ball. "Germany" was taking quite a lead, and Wingo, the Giants' catcher, pegged to second to catch him. He had him ever traveled with, and I have been

"Come on, Larry. That's three out," said Schaefer, holding out his hands to receive the ball in playfulness. Doyle thought the inning was over and torsed the ball to the comedian. He took it and threw it out into left field. The throw amounted to a two-base hit, and he scored on it, the ther runner reaching second.

If laughing makes a man grow fat, members of this party are going to be terribly corpulent by the time they have made the entire circle. McGraw Wants Discipline.

OTS of people look on this trip as a joy junket for the players. Charles Comiskey and lown the law to their party and laid down in no weak terms. "You are going to have the whole world looking at you," said McGraw to his men the other day. "There is o be no rough stuff. We are trying o show other nations what the proessional baseball player is like. Reand nothing rough goes."

The warning will be all sufficient 30th the New York and Chicago teams have been handled by managers for the last few years who insist on good be-havior among their players off the fiel l. acGraw is a stickler for this, and his activities in this line have resulted in etting the Giants into the best hotels all around the National League cir-

I recall the days when ball clubs put ip at the second-class hotels because ie managers of the good ones imagned that the exponents of the game must have flat peas so that they wouldn't roll off the knife, and that they hung around the lobby bothering the guests. McGraw always insists on the most careful behavior among his players, and the Giants got into the est hotels as a result. When the hotel wners saw what good patronage they other ball clubs.

A recruit joined the Giants two er three years ago. He had been brought up in a minor league, where the hotel ife was rough. When he first reached Marlin, his habit was to field his food from the plate to his mouth in the most rapid fashion possible, and with any tools available, including his fingers. The other boys soon "hopped" him, and now he is one of the most pol-ished performers, both at the table and on the ball field, that there is on the Matty's All-Star Nine.

HERE has been a lot of talk since the world's series about all American baseball teams. Nine stars ave been picked by this expert and hat, and on each club, American Leaglers have naturally been in the majority. Picking all-American teams, to my mind, is a waste of time, but here is a good suggestion:
Why not let the winner of the world's hampionship each fall play a team of picked stars from both leagues? If this were done, my selection for the opponents of the Athletics this year would have been: Archer and Meyers, catchers; Walter Johnson, Nap Rucker and Seaton, pitchers; Daubert, first base; Evers, second base; Wagner ing is feared.

Humorous and original causes for the infection are ascribed by Dr. Frasier and Trainer "Pooch" Donevan. The Doctor states that it resembles the bite of a black spider. Donevan ascribes the aliment as gout from overesting. Frank O'Brien, varsity left end, is also out of action for at least ten days. He received a hard kick in the spine during dummy scrimmage yesterday.

Accounting by Bernard P. Bogy Demanded in Action Brought by Mrs. Violet Moseley. ,

AWYER GIVES TESTIMONY

Tells of Alleged Deals by Which Defendant Got His Motherin-Law's Holdings.

Richard B. Haughton, an attorney. estified Tuesday afternoon before Clifford B. Allen, special referee in the case of Mrs. Violet Moseley against her father, Bernard P. Bogy, that Bogy obtained possession of the property of Mrs. Ann E. Griffith, his mother-in-law, through his handling of the funds of the Griffith & Adams Sand, Gravel & Transportation Co. in Sand, Gravel & Transportation Co., in which she held controlling interest. He told of being Mrs. Griffith's legal epresentative in many quarrels with Bogy over money matters and related how his client was finally forced to sell her holdings to a rival company which Bogy controlled. Sues for an Accounting Bogy is being sued by his daugh-ter, Mrs. Violet Moseley, for an accounting of his wife's estate. Haugh-ton, who at the time of Bogy's marriage in 1890 was practicing law in St. Louis and was living with the Griffiths at their home, 2731 Pine street, said that before the marriage there was an greement between Bogy, Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Bogy, whereby each should have control of whatever property they might get possession of. He told of how Bogy approached his mothr-in-law a few minutes after the ma:riage ceremony and asked that he be given control of his wife's property without any delay.

Bogy, he said, at the time of his marriage, was without employment and was supposed to be without funds. Haughtor. said that Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Bogy asked him on numerous occasions to try to get Bogy a position.

Mrs. Griffith at the time of her daughter's marriage to Bogy, owned the controlling interest in the Griffith & Adams Sand, Gravel and Transportation Co. A short time after the ceremony she made Bogy secretary, and some time later he became president of Wasting of Funds Charged.

It was while holding this position, Haughton testified, that Bogy became nvolved with his mother-in-law because she said she believed that he was wastng the funds of the firm. Haughton said that Mrs. Griffith complained to him that Bogy was spending too much money for repairs and that the salaries of the officers were exorbitant. He said further that property belonging to the Griffith & Adams Co., had been sold by Bogy to a company which he controlled for less than it was worth. He told of a conference with Bogy in which he demanded that money which he believed had been wasted be returned to the firm, and that the property be purchased back.

Haughton admitted, on cross-examina-tion, that he and Bogy had not spoken, except on business, since a short time after Bogy was married. He said the reason for this was that he would otherwise have been tempted to tell Bogy what he thought of his action towards Mrs. Griffith. He admitted that Bogy thought his family affairs were none of Haughton's concern and this caused

PEPER PROPERTY SALE

Business Men Show Interest in Twelfth Street Corner.

A long expected event, in which there s the greatest interest among business nen, will be the sale of the Peper property at Twelfth and Market streets, and of other downtown and residence holdngs of the Peper estate, set for Thursday noon. The sale will take place at he Real Estate Exchange. Because of its location, opposite the city hall, and its availability as a hotel or theater site, the old warehouse on Twelfth street has attracted most attention.

Other pieces of property are at Twelfth and Walnut streets, Eleventh and Mar-ket streets, Sixth and Wash streets, 1422-24 Morgan street and the southwest orner of Twelfth street and Park avenue. The residence property is on Wash-ngton boulevard, near Newstead avenue, and on San Francisco and Mar-garetta avenues. Charles Cummings Collins special commissioner, is in charge of the sale, which is made under order of court to settle the Peper estate.

ERUPTION ON ANKLE The True Source GREAT SUFFERING

Many Nights Did Not Sleep. Burned All the Time. Wore Bandage Night and Day. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Well.

Kingsville, Mo. — "My trouble began eighteen years ago. Nearly half of the time there were running sores around my ankle; sometimes it would be two years at a time hefore they were healed. There were many nights I did not sleep because of the grea nights I did not sleep because of the great suffering. The sores were deep running ones and so sore that I could not bear for anything to touch them. They would burn all the time and sting like a lot of bees were confined around my ankle. I could not bear to scratch it, it was always so sensitive to the touch. I could not let my clothes touch it. The skin was very red. I made what I called a cap out of white felt, biotting paper and soft white cloth to held it in shape. This I wore night and day.

and soft white cloth to hold it in shape. This I wore night and day.

"I tried many remedies for most of the eighteen years with no effect. Last summer when my ankle had been sore for over a year and much worse than ever before I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It would itch and burn, besides a great hurting that I think tongue could never explain. The very first time I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment I gained relief; they relieved the pain right then. It was three months from the time I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment until the sores were entirely healed. I have not been troubled since." (Signad) Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Oes. 22, 1912.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Minority Representation. tor of the Post-Dispatch, Here is a proposition which I wish to submit. It concerns the new charter which the Board of reeholders will soon be framing.

This idea is predicated on the general theory that the more truly representative a government are alive by moving to enlist the aid of Represents, the better is can serve the people. Now, in atives of the Progressive party. every city in the country at the present time, it is possible for 51 per cent of the voters to elect an entire legislative body leaving the 49 per cent absolutely unrepresented. This is hardly fair, and can be remedied. Briefly stated, this is my plan:

Any party, which fails to elect a member of the City Council (or whatever the Legislative body may be called) and whose total vote shall equal 10 per cent of the number of ballots cast by all parties in the same election, shall be entitled to one member in the City Council to be called Councilman-at-large; and for each additional 10 per cent (of the entire vote of all parties) an additional Councilman-at-large shall be accorded.

This would enable any third party—the Socialist, the Progressive—any party which the future may develop, to have a voice in the city's affairs. When 130,000 votes are cast in a St. Louis election, surely 13,000 of them, representing a third party, are entitled to representation.

provided for by a clause reading: "The City Council shall consist of — members in addition to Councilmen-at-large who may be chosen as here

Against a Single Legislative Body.

Regarding the new charter that is being draftstatement published, at their last meeting nine of their number voiced their opinions as favoring fair count, after a ful a single legislative body to represent the munithe rival candidates? ipal government of St. Louis. In this conclusion and many others who have discussed this ques ion do not agree with the Board of Freeholders, for this reason: . If there should be a bill introduced in that kind of an Assembly by a corpora ple at large, it would require less influence to gain the will be of 13 members than two-thirds in two branches, including the Mayor.

ers do not wish to have the new charter defeated they should draft a charter including two branches of the Assembly or their time will be wasted. I for one will not vote for a single body, and don't believe it will meet with the voters' J. H. D.

COMPLETE THE BRIDGE.

That the way to the completion of the bridge, urged by the Post-Dispatch, is the right way becomes clearer every day.

The program is simple.

LIVE PROGRESSIVES.

Dr. W. H. Cotton, speaking in support of a esolution calling upon Progressive Congressmen to demand an investigation of the Keokuk dam company's contracts and methods, aptly compared its arbitrary basis of charging according to coal cost with the bridge arbitrary. He denounced the whole arrangement exposed by the Post-Dispatch as a betrayal of the public right and interest in the use of a public resource.

A FREE FIELD FOR ALL.

In another column a Post-Dispatch reader argues for a minority representation plank in the new city charter.

If St. Louis continues electing city governnents on party lines, provision in common fairness ought to be made to give minority parties representation in the law-making body, proportioned to their voting strength.

But it is precisely this conception of city hall as a prize of party politics which American cities Giants at Tulsa, Ok. ### DESERTERS' DAY.

Yesterday was Deserters' Day. It was universally observed. This is one of the easiest kinds of day to observe.

From the ever-diverting Philippines came news that a whole company of Moro constabulary had deserted, taking their guns and ammunition with them and casually killing a heathen Chinee they spirits. Gen. Diaz deserted Mexico in a hurry. Miss Katherine Elkins deserted single blessedness. Postmaster Brewer of Philo. Ill., deserted his job to go fishing. Boss Murphy of New York City (and State) finally abandoned Sulzer in a long interview. A number of men and women de serted their mates and a prominent citizen of our Yat Sen was reported to be quietly slipping off from China. Several locomotives left the rails here and there in this land of the free and home of the brave. Several borrowed automobiles were deserted near the outskirts of cities by joy riders Several poor plays were deserted by managers because these had been deserted by the public. A number of actors were stranded in Chicago and New York, and a few board bills were jumped Reason appeared to have fled two or three eminent bankers who violently opposed the currency bill. Numerous deserted babies were discovered on doorsteps and in railway stations.

Good fellow Charlie Gates quit the game of life. Mayor Kiel deserted the free bridge for one more day. Luck deserted the A. & M. promoter. Law and order abandoned Colorado. Lulu Lumin ran away from her field in three heats on the Dallas racetrack, and Walter Johnson ran away from Christy Mathewson and the New York got their deserts, and in general it was a large, varied and by no means uninteresting day.

Maddern was paralyzed with fright when he saw the animals. First he thought they were dogs, but when he discovered that they were bears he could not move. Too scared to do anything he sat for five minutes, when the bears disappeared in a thicket.

I proved my ability and was raised to $12 per week from $8. GUSTAV CAHN.

"CAREFUL ABOUT EVERY MOVE."

Five years ago I started to wor in a wholesale shoe house as an or der clerk. When I got there I found that the firm paid their men according to length of service az a general rule.

Instead of thinking like the other new men, "Well, that old man gets more than I do. I'll just do my $35 per month's work," I hustled right from the start, worked with a conscience, and every move I made I was very cautious and ac-

In this way I caught a good many of my fellow-workmen's errors, established a record for accuracy and noticed my work, and when raise day came round, which was every

WANTED TO WORK HERSELF

I started to work for Friedman Bros. Shoe Co. at the age of 13. On applying for a position, I said to the forelady: "I should like a place where I can work myself up." She lacing table, where I worked 10 hours a day at a minimum wage of $2.50 per Week.

At the end of a few weeks the forelady came and said: "Where is the little girl who wants to work herelf up?" She took me to a machine, and so I was taugh to run a power machine at 13. This was before they were so energetic about the child labor law. I received $3 per week instead of $2.50.

Subsequently I was fortunate enough to attend a business college, where I learned stenography, at which vocation I worked until two years ago. L. B. G., St. Louis.

WAS NOT AFRAID OF DOGS. a colored man entered and ordered ome goods and ordered me to bring change for $5. I met the man on my errand. He told me to give him the change, that there was a bad dog in the yard. I told him I "was not afraid of dogs," and he went in an opposite direction. There was no one by that name there. The boss raised my salary from $4 to $5.

1531 N. Seventeenth street, St. Louis. THE BOSS THOUGHT HIM A MODEL.

My first raise came as an accident and taught me a very good lesson, long to be remembered, although some 30 years ago.

W. DELGMAN,

I always tried to be neat and make a good appearance, and for that reason had little trouble in securing a position as assistant file clerk for the Simmons Hardware Co. After working for them about weeks, during which time I was late about 10 times, I managed to get down to the office one morning ab five minutes ahead of time, and was surprised to learn that the boss had also arrived early. As I was the only clerk on duty, he immediately raised my salary $1 per week. Since that time, I have always tried to be on time when I feel the boss will be watching. F. M. "WHEN I LONGED FOR WOM-AN'S PRAISE." While yet a green and callow youth My hands unskilled, my steps uncouth With timid looks and awkward ways, How could I then expect a raise?

With all my duties poorly done, My thoughts forever bent on fun; My brains with romance all ablaze, How could I then expect a raise?

To feel the promptings of a man; And when I longed for woman's praise I also longed to have a raise. But plied my calling as an art; studied nights to practice days, nd then I got a welcome raise. A. O. C., 415 South st., Springfield, Mo.

When I was 15 years old I left school to seek a job to help raise nine younger brothers and sisters. I applied at several places, but with no results. In looking over the want, columns of the Post-Dispatch I read the ad of a large manufacturing concern that wanted an office boy and to apply in own handwriting. The following day I was called for a postal to come to work at $4 per

HELPED PAY HIS DEBTS. One day, about eight years ago, l was loafing in the Armstrong Bros. grocery store. The senior member of the firm told me to con occurred on Saturday. That evening he gave me 75 cents and told me to return Monday if I wished to work for $5.a week.

Mother and I had just moved to town, and as our source of income depended on me, I jumped at the chance. I worked for this salary six What groceries we needed I bought at the store "on time."

The wages were too low, however, and my account gradually increased. tion of my affairs and raised my salary $2 per week, provided I apply it on account. To this I consented and soon canceled the debt.

At the end of two years I was getting 39 and was promised $13 soon. At this time I received an offer of $50 per month, with sure promotion to $100, and informed my employers

They advised me to take the job, as that was more than they were able to offer. They were sorry to lose me, but very glad to see me advance. Their friendship has been of great benefit and one of the proudest moments of my life was when they told me I was "more like a brother to them than an employe."

LEARNED STENOGRAPHY. At the age of 14 I started my ca-

35 weekly. I at once began practi English." Later on, after having succeeded on this subject fairly well, I took up shorthand and "Business English." Later on, after having demonstrated my ability to my employer, I was promoted to the posi-tion of office boy and assistant ste-nographer, at which I received $7.50 per week.

This raise gave me further inspiration in my ability to become a prom-inent man in this wide world, and I studied further on these subjects Today I am stenographer and receiving a salary of $14 weekly. Although I have received raises since the first one, I have never appreciated them as I did my first, and it was due solely to this one raise, just at the right time, that kept me studying on these subjects. J. V. CORRIGAN. 2619 Arlington avenue, St. Louis.

POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

Market Shows Fairly Steady Tone; London List Is Regular.

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Evening
Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Prices on the stock market moved today, under the somewhat conflicting influences of the Mexican uncertainty, the beginning of the gold import movement, the rise in call meney to 5½ per cent (highest of the present season to date) and the suggestive remark on railway rates by the Commerce Commission's chairman.

"The general tendency in the New thanges. "What was rather plainly manifest was that the market is just now dominated by factors which, in a very short time, may turn out to be either much more favorable or much more unfavorable than they appeared to be today. Emerson-Brantingham.

Market News Scarce. "There was not much of interest in the routing news. Yesterday's net earnings statement by the Steel Corporation, for the September quarter, pretty much conformed to expectations; the result was a 30 per cent increase over 1912, and much the largest third-quarter showing, 1907 alone excepted, in the company's history. At the moment, however, the trade is looking to the immediate fature, not the immediate past. "Yesterday's statement reflects trade conditions of some months ago; those of today are of a considerably altered character.
"The Iron Age's weekly review of those of today are of a considerably altered character.

"The Iron Age's weekly review of the steel and iron trade reflected two opposite views of the situation. The week's further cuts in finished steel prices, the shortening of running time, or partial shut down by some mills, and the progressive decrease in new business, inspire the one view.

"As to the other, leaders in the industry have been quoted, the Iron Age reports, "in hopeful reviews of the situation, based on the high rate of consumption still maintained under hand-to-mouth buying."

Rate Advance is Likely,

"In part this morning's better sentiment on the Stock Exchange may have been inspired by the speech of the Interstate Commerce Commission's chairman yesterday to the antional Association of Railway Commissioners.

"The somewhat fragmentary reports ht Mr. Clark's remarks, in the distances, certainly seem to indicate a lang toward concession of the argument that some advance in rates is warranted.

"With the format hearing of the East-patches, certainly seem to the argupatches, certainly seem to the argument that some advance in rates is warranted.

"With the format hearing of the Eastern railways on this very question, scheduled for next month, the commission would naturally avoid any statement which could be twisted into prejudgment of that case.

"But his quoted language—to the effeet that the ideal transportation situation involves large additions to facilities, that such facilities can be provided only from surplus earnings or new borrowings, and that in either case the cost of service would logically be increased to shippers—really states the case of the railways.

"Even so general a statement from such a quarter was somewhat unusual under existing circumstances, but there can be no doubt that the consistion inferred by Mr. Clark is that cowars, which the community as a whole is learning.

which the community as a whole is leaning.

"Developments in the investment field especially, since the petition for higher rates was denied in 1910, have caused an unquestionable change in the general attitude, and of these developments the rise in cost of corporation borrowing, and the narrowing of the market for large issues of the wort, are not the least important.

"The investment market, being what it is, a railway must be reporting sufficient surplus earnings before it can get its normal credit facilities.

"The problem is then, do existing conditions insure such surplus earnings, under the usual vicissitudes of traffic, not only for the strongest roads, but for those less favorably placed?

Fashionable people had the upper hallways blocked, and as for the Jarr apartments the crush inside was tremenduous. A buzz of aristocratic feminine voices hummed from the open doors and ever and appendix. doors and ever and anon Mr. Jarr caught the words, in tones of worship-

"The Presidentess of Costa Rica!"

Mrs. Jarr with her hair down in school girl fashion (Costa Rica style) and arrayed in a wonderful combination of Chinese kimono and Turkish slippers, with a modish skirt of black satin, had only to drop her fan or handkerchief, hich she alternately did, for half a n of the proudest heads in uptown society to bump together, as those near-est hastened to pick up either 'kerchief

Ever and anon, with a languid air, over her ear and the broad sleeve of the kimono falling back would disclose upon her arms silver bangle bracelets made of silver five centavo pieces— value in real money two and a half cents each.

A half hundred adoring eager eyes llowed these bracelets. Mr. Jarr re-imbered Mrs. Jarr had bought out the local sliver artificer's stock of these at Port Limon, Costa Rica, for presents; and for the moment he imagined a distribution of them among those attending would take place. Their cost had been but slight and he remembered Mrs. Jarr had bought them to bring home to friends.

But it was evident she had changed for mind. For an envious lady near him gasped to another:
"The bracelets of rare Costa Rica coins are from the Treasury—gifts from

Stories St. Louisans Tell

A DIFFERENCE.

HE REV. JAMES WISE of St. Louis, who was a delegate to the late Protestant Episcopal general convention in New York, sat in the House of Deputies, which is com-posed of ministers and laymen, and which conducts its business publicly and in much the fashion of a state legislature. The upper body, the House of Bishops, meets behind closed doors, and considerable deference is paid to its members. At a reception to which the deputies and bishops were invited, the Rev. Mr. Wise relates, a very ceremonious negrowas acting as an usher. His announcement, frequently and loudly repeated as the guests entered, was, "Bishops over on this side please, centlemen on that side." this side please; gentlemen on that side."
